By combining these bullish and bearish securities, a pension investor can neutralize the potential price swings of each individual security into a predetermined, yet floating, profit band. This portfolio allocation also buffers the overall portfolio from changing pre-payment schedules and interest rate fluctuations.

A mortgage-backed portfolio such as this achieves broader diversification while maintaining an internally dynamic hedge. Employing more...

...and Donaldson, Lufkin & Jenrette's close monitoring of The Sprout Group may soon parlay into underwriting fees.

"Markets change and companies evolve over time," Nelson said. "It looks like this will be out last round of private money."

Neither UBS Capital nor the Sprout Group could be reached for comment.

In the meantime, the capital will be earmarked for overall growth as dynamicsoft builds out its employee base alongside its client roster, and develops a sales...

... over time. And second, small business loans-even those made by the same bank-may vary in their underwriting, payment terms and loan structure. Both these factors make it very difficult for an investor who wants to buy a security backed by a pool of these loans to determine the cash flows that such a pool will produce. Investors are unlikely to buy securities backed by an uncertain cash flow under conditions amenable to the firm that originated the loans. The investors may ask the...
